

Accredited medical interpreter training programs that meet the industry standards and qualify towards obtaining certification*.

Employees who are eligible for tuition reimbursement are encouraged to take any of the below trainings:

Hunter College Medical Interpreter Certificate

<http://www.hunter.cuny.edu/ce/certificates/medical-interpreter>

Cost: $1,250

City College of New York Medical Interpreter Program

<https://www.ccny.cuny.edu/cps/certified-medical-interpreter-spanishenglish>

Cost: $1,799

LaGuardia Community College Medical Interpreter Program

<https://www.laguardia.edu/healthcare-interpreter/>

Cost is about the same as Hunter and City

NYU SCPS Medical Interpreter Certificate

http://www.scps.nyu.edu/content/scps/site_search.html?q=medical%20interpreting

Cost: used to be close to $7,000 but not sure now that everything has been switched to virtual

*There are only two certifying bodies for medical interpreters. Only after taking and passing any of these tests, the interpreter is considered “certified” otherwise is only “qualified”.

National Board of Certification for Medical Interpreters

<https://www.certifiedmedicalinterpreters.org/>

Certification Commission for Healthcare Interpreters

<https://cchicertification.org/>