We ordinarily will respond to requests for copies within 30 days if the information is located on-site and within 60 days if it is located in off-site storage. If we need additional time to respond to a request for copies, we will notify you in writing within the time frame above to explain the reason for the delay and when you can expect to have a final answer to your request.

Under certain very limited circumstances, we may deny your request to inspect or obtain a copy of your information. If we do, we will provide you with a summary of the information instead. We will also provide a written statement that explains the reasons for providing only a summary and a complete description of your right to have that decision reviewed. If we have reason to deny only part of your request, we will provide complete access to the remaining parts.

Right to Amend Records

If you believe that the PHI we have about you is incorrect or incomplete, you may ask us to amend the information. You have the right to request an amendment for as long as the information is kept in our records. If you wish to amend your PHI please request an amendment request form from the relevant contact:

For example, if you disagree with our decision, you will have an opportunity to submit a statement explaining your disagreement which we will include in your records. You have a right to request an “accounting of disclosures”, which is a list with information about how your PHI has been disclosed to others outside Mount Sinai (other than through Mount Sinai’s Health Information Exchange (HIE) (see p. 6 below)).

An accounting list will not include:

- Disclosures we made to you or your personal representative;
- Disclosures we made pursuant to your written authorization;
- Disclosures we made for treatment, payment or business operations;
- Disclosures made from the patient directory;
- Disclosures made to your friends and family involved in your care or payment for your care;

For example, you may request a list of the disclosures that we made between January 1, 2008 and January 1, 2009. You have a right to receive one list within every 12 month period for free. However, we may charge you for the cost of providing any additional lists in that same 12 month period. If we need additional time to prepare the accounting list you have requested, we will notify you in writing about the reason for the delay and the date when you can expect to receive the accounting list. Mount Sinai Privacy Office—One Gustave L. Levy Place, Box 1016, NY, NY 10029

We will not ask you the reason for your request, and we will try to accommodate all reasonable requests. Please specify in your request how or where you wish to be contacted.

Notification of Other Disclosures:

You will be notified within 60 days if your PHI has been disclosed to or accessed by a person who was not authorized to receive the information unless we determine that there is a low probability that the PHI has been compromised.

How to File a Complaint. If you believe your privacy rights have been violated, you may file a complaint with The Mount Sinai Privacy Office or with the OCR. To file a complaint please contact:

HOW WE MAY USE AND DISCLOSE YOUR HEALTH INFORMATION WITHOUT YOUR WRITTEN AUTHORIZATION

Treatment. We may share your PHI with healthcare providers at Mount Sinai who are involved in taking care of you, and they may in turn use that information to diagnose or treat you. We may also make your PHI available to providers you see outside Mount Sinai by making it accessible through a Health Information Exchange (HIE), an electronic network that makes it possible to share information electronically, but we will not let anyone access it through the HIE without your consent except in an emergency (unless you direct us otherwise). This means that if your private, non-Mount Sinai physician uses an HIE that Mount Sinai operates or is part of, s/he will be able to access your PHI generated in the course of any Mount Sinai inpatient or outpatient care. In addition, certain information about your care at Mount Sinai may be sent automatically to the person you name as your Primary Care Provider and to the physician who referred you to Mount Sinai. If your private physician is on staff at Mount Sinai and uses the Mount Sinai electronic health record (EHR) in his/her office, anyone taking care of you at Mount Sinai will be able to access your private physician's medical record directly as well.

PHI shared through the HIE may include, in addition to your demographics and clinical information, the specially protected health information described in Attachment A (HIV-Related Information), Attachment B (Alcohol and Substance Abuse Treatment Information), Attachment C (Mental Health Information) and Attachment D (Genetic Information) of this Notice. The purpose of this use and disclosure to other non-Mount Sinai providers is to ensure that they have the most current and complete information about the care you received at Mount Sinai.

If you participate in Mount Sinai Cares, which is Mount Sinai's Accountable Care Organization or in one of Mount Sinai's Health Homes, staff for those entities will have access to your PHI, with your consent, to assist in coordinating your care.

Payment. We may use your PHI or share it with others to obtain payment for your healthcare services. For example, we may share information about you with your health insurance company in order to obtain reimbursement after we have treated you, or to determine whether it will cover your treatment. You may direct us not to share specific PHI with your insurance company relating to a service you plan to pay for and do pay for personally. It is your responsibility, however, to inform other providers who may receive copies of your Mount Sinai record that they may not share this information with your insurer. We might also need to inform your health insurance company about your health condition in order to obtain pre-approval for your treatment, such as admitting you to the hospital for a particular type of surgery. Finally, we may share your PHI with other healthcare providers, payers and their business associates for their payment activities except as described on page 5.

Business Operations. We may use your PHI or share it with others in order to conduct our business operations. For example, we may use your PHI to evaluate the performance of our staff in caring for you, to educate our staff on how to improve the care they provide for you or to conduct training programs for students, trainees and other healthcare practitioners. Finally, we may share your PHI with other healthcare providers and payors for certain of their business operations if the information is related to a relationship the provider or payor currently has or previously had with you, and if the provider or payor is required to protect the privacy of your PHI.

Appointment Reminders, Treatment Alternatives, Benefits and Services. In the course of providing treatment to you, we may use your PHI to contact you with a reminder that you have an appointment for treatment or services at our facility. We may also use your PHI in order to recommend possible treatment alternatives or health-related benefits and services that may be of interest to you. If we are paid to send you treatment information, we will tell you that and give you the right not to receive these communications.

Fundraising. To support our business operations, we may use demographic information about you, including information about your age, date of birth and gender, where you live or work, the type of insurance you have, and limited clinical information including the dates that you received treatment, the department and physician that provided you with services and outcome information, in order to contact you to raise money to help us improve our facilities and programs. We will not sell your PHI without your authorization. You may opt out of receiving any fundraising communications at any time by emailing us at philanthropyoptout@mountsinai.org, calling us at 212-659-8500 or writing us at Mount Sinai Office Development Office, One Gustave L. Levy Place, Box 1049, New York, N.Y. 10029-6574.

Business Associates (BAs). We may disclose the minimum amount of your PHI necessary to contractors, agents and other business associates who need the information in order to assist us with obtaining payment or carrying out our business operations. For example, we may share your PHI with a billing company that helps us obtain payment from your insurance company or with an insurance company, accounting firm, law firm, or risk management organization in order to obtain their advice regarding our operations. If we do disclose your PHI to a BA, we will have a written contract with them that requires the BA and any of its subcontractors to protect the privacy of your PHI. They and their subcontractors are independently required by federal law to protect your information.

In-Patient Directory. If you do not object, we will include your name, your location in our facility, your general condition (e.g., fair, stable, critical, etc.) and your religious affiliation in our Patient Directory while you are an inpatient or ambulatory surgery patient at any Mount Sinai facility. This directory information, except for your religious affiliation, may be released to people who ask for you by name. If you do not object, your religious affiliation may be given to a member of the clergy, such as a priest or rabbi, even if he or she does not ask for you by name. If you wish to opt out or restrict access to any of this information, please let us know when you register for inpatient or ambulatory surgery services at any Mount Sinai facility.

Family and Friends Involved in Your Care. If you do not object, we may share your PHI with a family member, relative, or close personal friend who is involved in your care or payment for that care. In some cases, we may need to share your PHI with a disaster relief organization that will help us notify these persons.

As Required By Law. We may use or disclose your PHI if we are required by law to do so. We also will notify you of these uses and disclosures if notice is required by law.

Public Health Activities. We may disclose your PHI to authorized public health officials (or a foreign government agency collaborating with such officials) so they may carry out their public health activities. For example, we may share your PHI with government officials responsible for controlling disease, injury or disability. We may also disclose your PHI to a person who may have been exposed to a communicable disease or be at risk for contracting or spreading the disease if the law permits us to do so. And finally, we are required to release some PHI about you to your employer if your employer hires us to provide you with a physical examination and we discover that you have a work-related injury or disease that your employer must know about in order to comply with employment laws.

Victims of Abuse, Neglect or Domestic Violence. We may release your PHI to a public health authority that is authorized to receive reports of abuse, neglect or domestic violence. For example, we may report your PHI to government officials if we reasonably believe that you have been a victim of such abuse, neglect or domestic violence. We will make every effort to obtain your permission before releasing this information, but in some cases we may be required or authorized to act without your permission.

Health Oversight Activities. We may release your PHI to government agencies authorized to conduct audits, investigations, and inspections of our facility. These government agencies monitor government benefit programs such as Medicare and Medicaid, as well as compliance with government regulatory programs and civil rights laws. We are required to release aggregate data (summary information that does not identify any specific patient) to the federal Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS) to demonstrate that we comply with Meaningful Use regulations by using EHRs to improve the quality of care, to better the overall health of the population and to improve efficiency.

Attachment D CONFIDENTIALITY OF GENETIC INFORMATION

Effective Date September 2013

The privacy and confidentiality of genetic information maintained by Mount Sinai is protected by State law and Federal regulations. Genetic information means, with respect to an individual: (i) the individual's genetic tests; (ii) the genetic tests of family members of the individual; (iii) the manifestation of a disease or disorder in family members of such individual; or (iv) any request for, or receipt of, genetic services, or participation in clinical research which includes genetic services, by the individual or any family member of the individual. Under New York State (NYS) law, special restrictions apply to (1) genetic testing of human biological samples and (2) the disclosure of information derived from genetic tests to any person or organization. Genetic test means any laboratory test of DNA, chromosomes, genes or gene products to detect a genetic variation linked to a predisposition to a genetic disease. It does not include information relating to a manifested disease (a disease that can be diagnosed primarily based on symptoms) or information obtained when confirming a disease with genetic testing.

Mount Sinai will not perform a genetic test on a biological sample taken from you unless Mount Sinai obtains your written informed consent under NYS law. With your informed consent, Mount Sinai may use the results of your genetic test for treatment, payment and healthcare operations (See

Authorization is not required if:

- The disclosure is to a person who is authorized to make healthcare decisions on your behalf and the information disclosed is needed by that person to make his/her decisions;
- The disclosure is made to a qualified service organization that performs certain treatment services (such as lab analyses) or to a Business Associate (BA) who needs it to assist us with obtaining payment or carrying out our business operations. - The disclosure is required or allowed by law or court order;
- Mount Sinai's Institutional Review Board has decided to allow the disclosure of information obtained about you from genetic tests on your stored tissue, or information which links you with specific test results and you have signed either a Research Authorization form or a Consent to Release Genetic Information Form under NY Civil Rights Law §§ 79-1 (3) (a) and 79-1 (9) (d)].

If you provide written authorization to participate in a Health Information Exchange (HIE), all of your records will be made available including genetic information. If you do not agree to such disclosure, you should not agree to participate in an HIE.

Violation of these privacy regulations may subject Mount Sinai to civil or criminal penalties. Suspected violations may be reported to appropriate authorities in accordance with Federal and State law.

Please refer to Mount Sinai's full Notice for additional information.

About the Health Care Proxy Form

The New York State Health Care Proxy Form is an important legal document. Before signing, you should understand that:

1. This form gives the person you choose as your agent the authority to make all health care decisions for you, including the decision to remove or provide life-sustaining treatment, unless you say otherwise in this form. “Health care” means any treatment, service, or procedure to diagnose or treat your physical or mental condition.
2. Unless your agent reasonably knows your wishes about artificial nutrition and hydration (nourishment provided by a feeding tube or intravenous line), he or she will not be allowed to refuse or consent to those measures for you.
3. Appointing a health care agent is voluntary. No one can require you to appoint one.
4. Your agent will start making decisions for you when your doctor determines that you are not able to make health care decisions for yourself.
5. You may write on this form any examples of the types of treatments that you would not desire and/or those treatments that you want to make sure you receive. The instructions may be used to limit the decision-making power of the agent. Your agent must follow your instructions when making decisions for you.
6. You do not need a lawyer to fill out this form for you.
7. You may choose any adult (18 years of age or older), including a family member or close friend, to be your agent. If you select a doctor as your agent, he or she may have to choose between acting as your agent or as your attending doctor because a doctor cannot do both at the same time. Also, if you are a patient or resident of a hospital, nursing home or mental hygiene facility, there are special restrictions about naming someone who works for that facility as your agent. Ask staff at the facility to explain those restrictions.
8. Before appointing someone as your health care agent, discuss your health care wishes and this form with them to make sure he or she is willing to act as your proxy. If they consent, be sure to provide them with a signed copy of the Health Care Proxy form. Your health care agent cannot be sued for health care decisions made in good faith.
9. If you name your spouse as your health care proxy and you later become divorced or legally separated, your former spouse will no longer be your agency, by law. If you would like your former spouse to remain as your agent, you may note this on your current form and date it or complete a new form.
10. You have the right to continue making health care decisions for yourself as long as you are able to do so, even after you sign this form. Treatment cannot be given to you or stopped if you object and your proxy will not have any legal power to make health care decisions for you.
11. You may revoke your proxy’s authority at any time by informing your agent or health care provider verbally or in writing.
12. You may express your wishes or instructions regarding organ and/or tissue donation on this form.

Health Care Proxy Form Instructions

Item (1)

Write the name, home address and telephone number of the person you are selecting as your agent.

Item (2)

If you want to appoint an alternate agent, write the name, home address and telephone number of the person you are selecting as your alternate agent.

If you want to give your agent broad authority, you may do so right on the form. Simply write: I have discussed my wishes with my health care agent and alternate and they know my wishes including those about artificial nutrition and hydration.

If you wish to make more specific instructions, you could say:

If I become terminally ill, I do/don't want to receive the following types of treatments....

You may state wishes or instructions about organ and /or tissue donation on this form. New York law does provide for certain individuals in order of priority to consent to an organ and/or tissue donation on your behalf: your health care agent, your decedent's agent, your spouse, if you are not legally separated, or your domestic partner, a son or daughter 18 years of age or older, either of your parents, a brother or sister 18 years of age or older, a guardian appointed by a court prior to the donor's death.

Two witnesses 18 years of age or older must sign this Health Care Proxy form. The person who is appointed as your agent or alternate agent cannot sign as a witness.

Summary of Policy on Advance Directives

It is our policy to honor decisions made by patients receiving medical care, including decisions to accept or refuse medical or surgical treatment, and to honor the advance directives of patients, including living wills, health care proxies, and oral statements, to the full extent permitted by law. Copies of our Health Care Proxy Policy, Do Not Resuscitate Policy and Policy on Oral and Written Advance Directives are available upon request. We encourage each patient or family member to discuss these issues with the attending physician.

Your Right to Decide about the Treatment: Adults in New York State have the right to accept or refuse medical treatment, including life-sustaining treatment. Our Constitution and state laws protect this right. This means that you have the right to request or consent to treatment, to refuse treatment before it has started, and to have treatment stopped once it has begun.

Planning in Advance: You may be unable to talk to a doctor to decide on a course of treatment because of an unexpected illness or injury. If you do not plan ahead, family members or other close individuals may not be allowed to make decisions for you and follow your wishes. Therefore, you may wish to plan ahead to ensure your health care wishes are followed, even in the event that you are unable to decide for yourself.

In New York State, appointing someone you can trust to decide about your treatment if you are unable to do so is the best way to protect your treatment wishes and concerns. You may appoint an agent by filling out a Health Care Proxy Form. A copy of the Form is attached on page 42 of this Guide and relevant information can be found on pages 8-9.

If you cannot or chose not to appoint a health care proxy, you can also give specific advance instructions about your treatment. Those instructions can be written, and are often referred to as a Living Will.

You should understand that general instructions about refusing treatment, even if written down, may not be effective. Your instructions must clearly cover the treatment decisions that must be made. For example, it may be insufficient if you just write down that you do not want “heroic measures”. You should say the kind of treatment that you do not want, such as a respirator or chemotherapy, and describe the medical condition when you would refuse the treatment, such as when you are terminally ill or permanently unconscious with no hope of recovering. You can also give instructions orally by discussing your treatment wishes with your doctor, family members or others close to you.

Although putting your wishes in writing is safer, neither method is as effective as appointing someone to decide for you. It is often hard for people to know in advance what will happen to them or what their medical needs will be in the future. If you choose someone to make decisions for you, that person can talk to your doctor and make decisions that they believe you would want or that are best for you, when needed. After appointing your agent, it is also possible to leave further instruction concerning your treatment in a Living Will, the Health Care Proxy Form, or in some other manner. These instructions can further help your agent to make the right decisions for you.

Decisions about Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation: Your right to decide about treatment also includes the opportunity to decide about cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR). CPR is an emergency treatment to restart your heart and lungs when breathing or circulation stops.

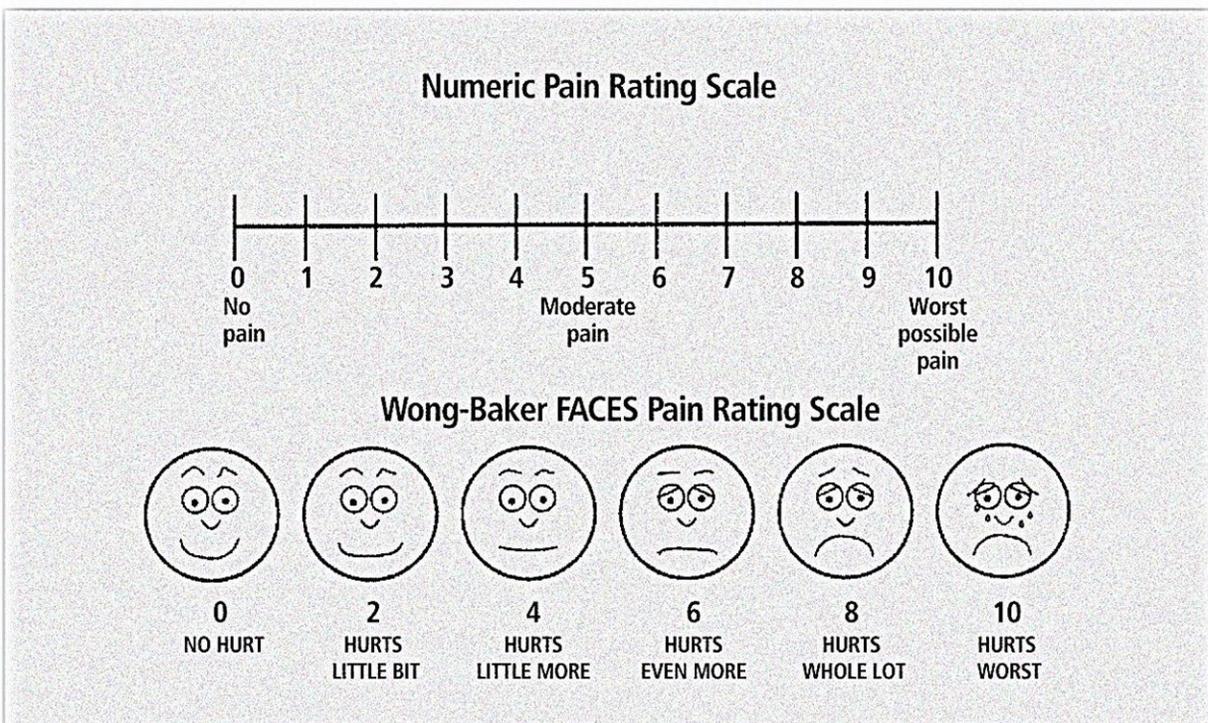

Sometimes doctors and patients decide in advance that CPR should not be provided, and the doctor gives the medical staff an order not to resuscitate (DNR order). If your physical or mental condition prevents you from deciding about CPR, someone you appoint, your family members, or others close to you can decide. A brochure on CPR and your rights under New York law is available from your health care provider.

Patient Information on Pain Management

We at Mount Sinai are committed to recognizing and treating your pain by effectively using medicines and treatments that will provide the best level of relief. However, as the patient, you know your pain best and hold valuable information regarding your pain to give to our staff.

Always tell your doctor, nurse, or other staff member when you are having pain. Don't be afraid to ask for pain medicine. Many people are worried about becoming addicted but addiction is not a concern in most cases and medicines can, and should, be taken to relieve pain. While we believe that managing pain is an important aspect of getting well, you should speak openly with your doctors and nurses if you have concerns about addiction.

Our nurses and doctors will ask questions about the intensity (how strong), location, and the type (throbbing, burning, and aching) of pain you may be experiencing. We often ask you to rate the intensity of pain using a pain scale. The pain scale is an evaluation tool to understand your pain and determine the effectiveness of your medications and/or treatments. The scale uses numbers from 0 (no pain) to 10 (the worst possible pain) or pictures of faces that show increments of pain intensity.

Pain control is important in providing you with the comfort and strength to heal and get well. We know that patients who have their pain well controlled generally tend to recover better and faster. We can provide a variety of options in the prevention and management of pain. Some of these options are:

- Pain medication by mouth (pills) or skin patch;
- Pain medication given by injection into a muscle;
- Pain medicine given into a vein;
- Pain medicine given through a PCA, a Patient Controlled Analgesia pump – a machine that contains pain medicine and has a button that you can push to give yourself a dose of pain medicine when you need it (within the limits ordered by your doctor);
- Regional Anesthesia and Spinal Medications, where local anesthetics and/or pain medicine is injected into the spine or other areas to relieve pain or numb a part of the body for a period of time;
- There are also methods that can assist in the relief of pain that don't involve medicines at all, such as: relaxation techniques, hot or cold packs, rest, deep breathing exercises, proper positioning in the bed or chair and the positive effects of using distraction techniques such as music, television and visitors.

No matter which pain management therapy you use, remember some important facts:

- Discuss pain management therapy with your health care providers. Let them know your allergies, previous experience with pain medicines, other medications that you are taking and your health history.
- Tell the staff how strong or severe your pain is. Let them know what makes it better and what makes it worse.
- Ask for pain medication when you need it or before doing an activity that may cause pain – don't wait until the pain is too strong or out of control.
- Give the pain medication time to work. Ask staff when you can expect to feel some relief from the pain.
- Use rest, deep breathing and other non-drug treatments to help your pain.
- Tell the staff how you are feeling. Let them know if or how effective the pain management therapy is. Tell them if you are experiencing any unexpected or unacceptable effects from your pain management therapy.

Your health care provider knows how to assess and treat your pain. If you have any questions or need further information, speak with a doctor or nurse.

The Victim's Rights Notice was prepared to inform victims of domestic violence of their legal rights and remedies available under law. If you are a victim of domestic violence, you are encouraged to speak privately with a social worker or someone who can help you. You should be interviewed privately out of eyesight and earshot of anyone who accompanies you. Your rights as a patient will be violated if hospital staff asks if you are a victim of domestic violence in front of any accompanying partner or family member.

You have the right to have your petition and request for an order of protection filed on the same day you appear in court, and such request must be heard that same day or the next day court is in session. Either court may issue an order of protection from conduct constituting a family offense which could include, among other provisions, an order for the respondent or defendant to stay away from you or your children. The family court may also order the payment of temporary child support and award temporary custody of your children. If the family court is not in session, you may seek immediate assistance from the criminal court in obtaining an order of protection. The forms you need to obtain an order of protection are available from the family court and the local criminal court. Filing a criminal complaint or a family court petition containing allegations that are knowingly false is a crime.”

Public Health Law 2803(1)(h) Notice to Victims

Excerpted from New York State Department of Health’s “Your Rights as a Hospital Patient in New York State”

Domestic Violence – Notice for Prenatal and Maternity Patients

This notice contains information that will be valuable to you if you are a victim of domestic violence. If you are a victim of domestic violence you should request to speak with someone about your situation and be given this information in a private and confidential manner. Your rights as a patient will be violated if hospital staff asks if you are a victim of domestic violence in front of any accompanying partner or family member.

Are You and Your Baby Safe?

If there is domestic violence in your life, you might not be. Here are some questions to help you know if you're being abused.

1. Does your partner hurt you with words?
2. Does your partner insult you and make you feel worthless?
3. Does your partner put you down in front of other people?
4. Does your partner hurt you physically?
5. Does your partner push, slap, hit, punch, kick, choke or beat you?
6. Does your partner make you do sexual things you don't want to do or hurt you during sex?
7. Is your partner in charge of everything?
8. Does your partner tell you who you can and cannot see or talk to?
9. Does your partner control all of the family's money?
10. Does your partner scare you?
11. Does your partner lose their temper, get very jealous, or break things?
12. Does your partner threaten to hurt you, the kids, the pets or themselves?

Victims of domestic violence abuse are not always physically hurt. If you answered "ye" to any of the questions above, you might be abused. You or your children could be in danger.

You are not alone.

You are not to blame.

You do not deserve to be abused.

Did you know that domestic violence sometimes starts or gets worse during pregnancy?

And you're not the only one getting hurt:

- A woman who is abused during pregnancy may be more likely to have a miscarriage, infections, bleeding, anemia and other health problems. These can affect both her and her baby.
- She is twice as likely to have a low birthweight baby.
- Most men who hit their partners also beat their children. Some also sexually abuse children.
- Kids whose fathers beat their mothers can suffer from health problems, sleep problems, anger, guilt, fear and anxiety.
- Each year more than 1,000 children in the U.S. die from injuries caused by their parents, guardians or others.

You and your baby do not deserve to be treated this way.

You have a right to be safe.

Appendix B - If You Think You Are Being Asked to Leave the Hospital Too Soon

You have the right to appeal decisions made by your doctor, hospital staff or your managed care plan:

- About when you are to leave the hospital;
- If you feel you are being asked to leave too soon;
- If you believe you have not been given adequate or appropriate plans for your medical care and other services you may need after you leave the hospital; or
- If needed services are not in place.

The law requires that you receive advance notice in writing telling you:

- The date the physician and/or hospital plans to discharge you;
- How to appeal if you wish to remain in the hospital; and
- A special number to call with any problems related to leaving the hospital.

For Assistance/Help

There is an Independent Professional Review Agent (IPRA) for your area and your insurance coverage. Should you need assistance/help from the IPRA, the hospital will provide you with a phone number/person to contact.

For Medicare Patients Only

If you feel that you are being asked to leave the hospital too soon and have not received advance notice telling you when to leave the hospital, ask for your discharge notice (called “The Important Message from Medicare about Your Rights”). If you are in a Healthcare Maintenance Organization (HMO), you should also request “The Important Message from Medicare about Your Rights”. You must have this written discharge notice in order to appeal the physician’s and hospital’s decision about when you are to leave.

For Managed Care Patients Only

If you are a patient enrolled in an HMO or managed care plan, first request/submit an expedited appeal to the HMO or plan’s utilization review committee if you feel your benefits are unfairly limited or denied, or you are being asked to leave the hospital too soon, or that medically necessary services are inappropriately excluded from your coverage. If you are not satisfied with the outcome of that appeal request, you may contact the New York State Department of Health by calling: 1-800-206-8125.

Appendix C – Confidentiality of Genetic Information

The privacy and confidentiality of genetic information maintained by Mount Sinai is protected by State and Federal regulations. Genetic information means, with respect to an individual: (i) the individual's genetic tests; (ii) the genetic tests of family members of such individual; (iii) the manifestation of a disease or disorder in family members of such individual; or (iv) any request for, or receipt of, genetic services, or participation in clinical research which includes genetic services, by the individual or any family member of the individual. These protections go above and beyond the protections described in Mount Sinai's general Notice of Privacy Practices ("Notice"). If you have any questions about this notice or would like further information, please contact:

Mount Sinai Privacy Office – 212-241-4669

We recommend that you also take the time to review the Notice for information about how your protected health information (PHI) may generally be used and disclosed by Mount Sinai. The Notice also provides information about how you may obtain access to your PHI, including confidential genetic information.

Under New York State (NYS) law, specific restrictions apply to (1) genetic testing of human biological samples and (2) the disclosure of information derived from genetic tests to any person or organization. Genetic test means any laboratory test of DNA, chromosomes, genes or gene products to detect a genetic variation linked to a predisposition to a genetic disease. It does not include information relating to a manifested disease (a disease that can be diagnosed based on symptoms) or information obtained when confirming a disease with genetic testing.

Mount Sinai will not perform a genetic test on a biological sample taken from you unless Mount Sinai obtains your written informed consent under NYS law. With your informed consent, Mount Sinai may use the results of your genetic test for treatment, payment and healthcare operations. Any other uses or disclosures of the results of your genetic test will generally require your written authorization. This authorization is separate from, and may not be combined with the informed consent.

Authorization is not required if:

- The disclosure is to a person who is authorized to make healthcare decisions on your behalf and the information disclosed is needed by that person to make his or her decisions;
- The disclosure is made to a qualified service organization that performs certain treatment services (such as lab analyses) or to a Business Associate (BA) who needs it to assist us with obtaining payment or carrying out our business operations. Mount Sinai will obtain the qualified service organization or BA's agreement in writing to protect the privacy and confidentiality of your information in accordance with Federal and State law.
- The disclosure is required or allowed by law or court order;
- Mount Sinai's Institutional Review Board has decided to allow the disclosure of information obtained about you from genetic tests on your stored tissue, or information which links you with specific test results and you have signed either a Research Authorization form or a Consent to Release Genetic Information Form under NY Civil Rights Law §§ 79-1(3)(a) and 79-1(9)(d).

If you provide written authorization to participate in a Health Information Exchange (HIE), all of your records will be made available, including genetic information. If you do not agree to such disclosure, you should not agree to participate in an HIE.

Violation of these privacy regulations may subject Mount Sinai to civil or criminal penalties. Suspected violations may be reported to appropriate authorities in accordance with Federal and State law.

Please refer to Mount Sinai's full Notice for additional information.

Glossary

1. Advance Directives: Verbal or written instructions that communicate your wishes about treatment should you suffer an incapacitating illness or injury and cannot make decisions about your care. These can include, but are not limited to, a health care proxy, a consent to a do not resuscitate (DNR) order and a living will.
2. Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation (CPR): A medical procedure used to restart a patient's heart and lungs when breathing or circulation stops.
3. Discharge Notice: A New York State hospital discharge notice should include information on your discharge date and how to appeal it if you disagree with the notice. A discharge notice must be provided to all patients (except Medicare patients who receive a copy of an "Important Message from Medicare") in writing 24 hours before they leave the hospital. Medicare patients must request a written discharge notice if they disagree with discharge. If requested, the notice must be provided. Once the notice is provided and if the Medicare patient disagrees with the notice, an appeal can be processed.
4. Discharge plan: All patients (including Medicare patients) in New York State hospitals must receive a written discharge plan before they leave the hospital. This plan should describe the arrangements for any health care services you may need after you leave the hospital. The necessary services described in this plan must be secured or reasonably available before you leave the hospital.
5. Discharge planning: Discharge planning is the process by which hospital staff work with you and your family or someone acting on your behalf to prepare and make arrangements for your care once you leave the hospital. This care may be self-care, care by family members, home health assistance or admission to another health care facility. Discharge planning includes assessing and identifying what your needs will be when you leave the hospital and planning for appropriate care to meet those needs when you are discharged. A plan must be provided to you in writing before you leave the hospital. Discharge planning usually involves the patient, family members, or the person you designate to act on your behalf, your doctor and a member of the hospital staff. Some hospitals have staff members who are called "discharge planners." In other hospitals, a nurse or a social worker may assist in discharge planning.
6. Do Not Resuscitate (DNR) Order: At your request, a DNR order may be included in your medical chart. It instructs the medical staff not to try to revive you if your breathing or heartbeat has stopped. This means that doctors, nurses and other health care practitioners will not initiate such emergency procedures as mouth-to-mouth resuscitation, external chest compression, electric shock, and insertion of a tube to open your airway, injection of medication into your heart or open chest. Under New York State law, all adult patients can request a DNR order verbally or in writing if two witnesses are present. In addition, the Health Care Proxy law allows you to appoint someone to make decisions about DNR and other treatments if you become unable to do so.
7. Health Care Proxy form: New York State has a law that allows you to appoint someone you trust, for example, a family member or close friend as your Health Care Agent, to decide about your treatment if you lose the ability to decide for yourself. You may use this form to indicate your wishes regarding organ donation in the event of your death.
8. Living Will: A living will is a written document that expresses in advance your specific instructions and choices about various types of medical treatments and certain medical conditions. Living wills may be recognized as evidence of your wishes (if such wishes are expressed in a clear and convincing manner) if you are seriously ill and not able to communicate.
9. Managed Care: Managed care refers to the way an individual's (or family member's) health care is organized and paid for. While health maintenance-organizations (HMOs) are the best known managed care plans, there are many other types. If you are enrolled in managed care plans, your access to health care services is coordinated by the plan and/or primary care physician. Therefore you should understand how, when and where to access health care services, including hospital services, according to your plan and benefits. Read your plan's enrollment information carefully and ask questions of your plan representative to be sure you understand your benefits, rights and responsibilities.
10. Medicaid: Medicaid is a federal program, financed by federal, state and local governments, intended to provide access to health care services for the poor, specifically those who meet certain eligibility requirements such as income level.
11. Medical Misconduct: If you feel you have received poor or substandard care (incompetent, negligent or fraudulent care) from a doctor or physician assistant, you may file a report with the New York State Department of Health. Physicians and other health professionals are required by law to report any instance of suspected misconduct.

12. Medicare: Medicare is a federal program, administered by the federal government, which pays part of the costs of medical services for people aged 65 or older or who are disabled. Eligibility rests solely upon age or disability.
13. Patient Representative: The patient representative is a member of the hospital staff who serves as a link between the patient, family, physicians and other hospital staff. The patient representative should be available to answer questions about hospital procedures, help with special needs or concerns and help solve problems. The patient representative is familiar with all hospital services and will assist you. There is no charge for services rendered by the patient representative.

Mount Sinai Health Information Exchange (HIE) and Healthix Consent Form

The Mount Sinai Health Information Exchange (“Mount Sinai HIE”) and Healthix share information about people’s health electronically and securely to improve the quality of health care services. This kind of sharing is called e-health or health information technology (“Health IT”). To learn more about Health IT in New York State, read the brochure, “Better Information Means Better Care.” You can ask your health care provider for it, or go to the website www.ehealth4ny.org.

In this Consent Form, you can choose whether to allow the health care providers listed on the Mount Sinai HIE website www.mountsinainconnect.org (“HIE Participants”) to obtain access to your medical records through a computer network operated by the Mount Sinai HIE. This can help collect the medical records you have in different places where you get health care, and make them available electronically to the providers treating you. The list of HIE Participants on the website will be updated regularly.

You may also use this Consent Form to decide whether or not to allow employees, agents or members of the medical staff of The Mount Sinai Hospital and Icahn School of Medicine at Mount Sinai (together, “Mount Sinai”) to see and obtain access to your electronic health records through Healthix, which is a Health Information Exchange, or Regional Health Information Organization (“RHIO”), a not-for-profit organization recognized by the State of New York. This can also help collect the medical records you have in different places where you get healthcare, and make them available electronically to the providers treating you. This consent gives your permission for any Mount Sinai program in which you are a patient to access your records from your other healthcare providers authorized to disclose information through Healthix. A complete list of current Healthix Information Sources is available from Healthix and can be obtained at any time by checking the Healthix website at <http://healthix.org> or by calling Healthix at 877-695-4749. Upon request, your provider will print this list for you from the Healthix website.

Your Consent Choices. You can fill out this form now or in the future. You have the following choices:

Important Information about Paying for Your Care at Mount Sinai Beth Israel

Mount Sinai Beth Israel (the "Hospital") is a participating provider in many health plan networks. You can find a list of the plans in which we participate at <http://www.mountsinaihealth.org/about-the-health-system/insurance-info/msbi>. Some health plans use smaller networks for certain products they offer so it is important to check whether we participate in the specific plan you are covered by. Our list will tell you if we do not participate in all of a health plan's products.

It is also important for you to know that the physician services you receive in the Hospital are not included in the Hospital's charges. Physicians who provide services at the Hospital may be independent voluntary physicians, may be employed by the Hospital, may be employees of the Icahn School of Medicine at Mount Sinai, or may be contractors. Physicians bill for their services separately and may or may not participate in the same health plans as the Hospital. You should check with the physician arranging your hospital services to determine which plans that physician participates in.

Plan participation information for physicians employed by the Hospital or the Icahn School of Medicine at Mount Sinai can be found by using the pink "find a doctor" toolbar at <http://www.mountsinaihealth.org> to navigate to individual physicians' profiles to view their insurance participation information. The Hospital also contracts with a physician group, York Anesthesiologists, PLLC, to provide anesthesiology services. Contact information for York Anesthesiologists, PLLC is as follows, and you should contact York Anesthesiologists directly to find out which health plans they participate in:

York Anesthesiologists, PLLC
Baird Hall, Room #3BH55
1st Ave at 17th Street
New York, NY 10003

Professional Medical Management (Billing Office)
46 West Oak Street
Amityville, NY 11701
(631) 264-2030
(631) 264-2035

You should also check with the physician arranging for your hospital services to determine whether the services of any other physicians will be required for your care. Your physician can provide you with the name, practice name, mailing address and telephone number of any physicians whose services may be needed. Your physician will also be able to tell you whether the services of any physicians employed or contracted by the Hospital are likely to be needed, such as anesthesiologists, radiologists and pathologists. As noted above, contact information for these physicians is available at www.mountsinaihealth.org and as listed above. You should contact these groups directly to find out which health plans they participate in.

Hospitals are required by law to make available information about their standard charges for the items and services they provide. This information can be obtained by calling (212) 256-3177 or writing to the Hospital's Patient Financial Services Department at 160 Water Street, 22nd Floor, New York, NY 10038.

If you do not have health insurance, you may be eligible for assistance in paying your hospital bills. Information about financial assistance is available at www.hospitalassistance.org, or you may contact our financial assistance offices as follows:
