Women’s Health at Mount Sinai focuses on the promotion of health, safety and quality of life across the entire spectrum of a woman's life. This is critical as women and men differ in regard to risk, symptoms, and treatment of diseases. At Mount Sinai, leading doctors across a wide range of medical disciplines enhance the quality of care given to women throughout their lives.

The funds raised at this event will enable Mount Sinai to maintain its leadership in research and development of cutting edge advances to improve health care for women. Your contribution will also provide resources and services to meet the needs of all women in the communities we serve.

Arianna Huffington is the chair, president and editor-in-chief of the Huffington Post Media Group, a nationally syndicated columnist and author of thirteen books.

In May 2005, she launched The Huffington Post, a news and blog site that quickly became one of the most widely-read, linked to and frequently-cited media brands on the Internet. In 2012, the site won a Pulitzer Prize for national reporting.

In 2013, she was named to Forbes Most Powerful Women list. In 2006, and again in 2011, she was named to the TIME 100, TIME magazine’s list of the world’s 100 most influential people.

Originally from Greece, she moved to England when she was 16 and graduated from Cambridge University with an M.A. in economics. At 21, she became president of the famed debating society, the Cambridge Union.
