Resources for Jewish Patients & Visitors

Mount Sinai

Center for Spirituality and Health

Shalom!

The Mount Sinai Hospital (est. 1852) has a long tradition of serving the Jewish community. We hope that your visit will bring healing of body, mind, and spirit.

The Center for Spirituality and Health is dedicated to meeting the spiritual and religious needs of all our patients and their families.

Our board certified chaplains & trainees specialize in compassionate and non-judgmental listening to help you find meaning, hope, and comfort.

To connect with a Chaplain, call 212-241-7262.

The Peck Jewish Chapel

The Peck Jewish Chapel is open 24/7 and is located in the Guggenheim Pavilion, 2nd floor, West (GP2W).

Shabbat at Mount Sinai Hospital

Sabbath elevators stop automatically at each floor, and are available in all buildings on Shabbat and holidays. In buildings with babies and children, staircases are locked and alarmed at all times. The only access is via Sabbath elevators.

All hospital buildings are in an Eruv. All buildings can be accessed from the MC level. The Manhattan Eruv is supervised by the Machon L'hoyroa in Monsey.

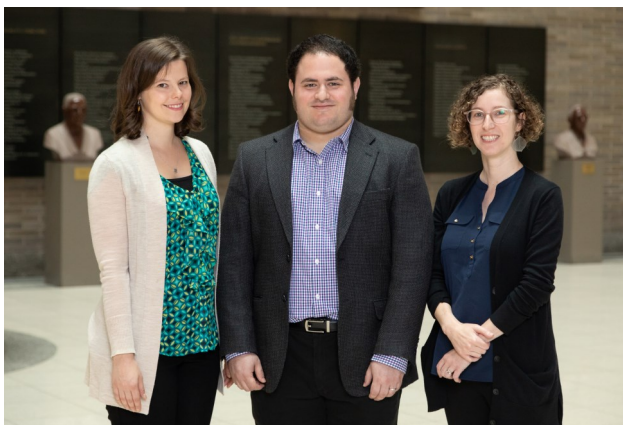

For details/map see:
<https://www.jewishcenter.org/manhattan-eruv.html>

Candles: Safety is our highest priority. No fire is permitted in Mount Sinai Hospital at any time, for any reason. Any electric light may serve in place of Shabbat candles.

Shabbat candles are installed into the wall next to patient beds in several of our pavilions.

To request LED Shabbat candles, contact the Spiritual Care Department at 212-241-7262.

Mount Sinai Jewish Chaplains

Kosher Food: Mount Sinai's kosher kitchen is supervised by the OU (mashgiach temidi). All dairy is Cholov Yisrael and all meat used in the kitchen is supplied by Meal Mart & is Glatt Kosher with chassidishe shechita.

You may request Kosher pre-packaged food that comes primarily from Meal Mart by contacting food services at 212-241-6963. If you are on a unit where menus are distributed, write "packaged food" on the menu.

The Chesed Room is located next to the Peck Jewish Chapel. Sima Bachrach of Chesed 24/7 can be reached at 347-984-3612.
